

The screenshot displays the Comodo Personal Firewall 2.3.4.45 interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for SUMMARY, REPORTS, and CONFIGURATION, along with a 'Custom Security' indicator. The main area features the Comodo logo and the text 'PERSONAL FIREWALL'. It reports 'The Firewall has produced 0 Alerts' and shows the subscription validity as 'Checking Status...'. Below this, the 'Computer Security Level' is set to 'Custom', with a note that 'Your computer's security level is set to Custom. This means all restrictions set by you are applied.' A vertical slider on the left allows adjusting the security level between High, Custom, and Low. The 'I would like to' section offers several actions: 'Add a new banned application', 'Add a new allowed application', 'Add a new network control rule', 'Add a new application control rule', 'View configuration wizards', 'View active connections', 'View active sessions', and 'View activity statistics'. On the right side, there are three panels: 'Highlights' (News, Alerts), 'Traffic' (Application, Network) showing 89.7% for Skype.exe and 9.5% for System, and 'System Info' (Adapter, Hardware) listing the Marvell Yukon Gigabit Ethernet 10/1 adapter with IP address 10.10.0.15 and MAC address CO-0F-EA-5C-A4-AD.
